

In Recognition of Veterans Day

Rollins Workplace Inclusion is helping to ensure that every employee feels respected, valued, and has a strong sense of belonging, so today, we are proud to show appreciation for our Veterans. Veterans Day provides us with a special opportunity to honor the millions of people who protect our country and our freedom and to thank them for all they’ve done. Please take a moment today to pause and recognize these individuals — especially the veterans we have working right here at Rollins and its Family of Brands — and express your sincere gratitude for their service.

It takes an extraordinary person to serve in the armed forces. You must be courageous, selfless and prepared to respond at a moment’s notice. Today, and every day, we honor your service and draw inspiration from your examples of leadership and fortitude. Through your self-sacrifice and your willingness to keep America safe, you truly exemplify what it means to belong to the land of the free and the home of the brave. We would also like to acknowledge the families of our veterans, who further inspire us with their passion, dedication, and strength.

Thank you for your service!
